SEEKING COUNSEL IN M'GUE MURDER

Lawyers Hesitate to Prosecute ex-Mayor.

HIS ATTORNEYS PROTECTED

Deed for Real Estate Guarantees Them Their Fees for Defending Him.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Sept. 16.-Ernest B. Crawford, of Harrisonburg, brother of Mrs. Fannie M. McCue, who was murdered on the night of the 4th of September, is here. Although reticent as to the particular errand upon which he came, it is believed he is seeking legal aid for the prosecution of his brother-in-law, who stands charged with the crime.

Thus far no announcement has been made with authority as to who has been engaged, if anyone

Hard to Get a Lawyer.

At first it was said that John I. Lee, the noted criminal lawyer of Lynchburg, and Charles T. Curry, of Staunton, also one of the strongest attorneys in the State, had been retained by the Crawfords. Lee, however, is for the defense, and it is said now that Mr. Curry is not connected with the case.

No lawyer at the Albemarle bar seems willing for personal reasons to take part in the prosecution. It was rumored that the members of the Albemarle bar were to confer in regard to alding the Crawfords in securing legal assistance. Mr. Crawford would not admit that he had spoken with more than one attorney. This, it is understood, was R. Walton Moore, of Fairfax, a distinguished lawyer known throughout the State and of conceded ability. Mr. Moore, however, was prevented from entering upon the case by engagements previous

At one time it was thought that Charles V. Meredith, of Richmond, could find time to undertake a share in the prosecution. This, it seems, he was willing to do, but professional engagements have prevented. It is understood that he stipulated that no fee should be paid him and that his services would be commanded simply in the interest of

The ex-mayor, it seems, has made every provision for legal defense, even to securing to his attorneys the payment of their fees, aggregating $12,500 to their fees. A deed of trust was filed in the clerk's office of the corporation court of Charlottesville, conveying the entire real estate, save his former residence, of J. was sitting on my porch Sunday

I told him and asked him if he had anything on his porch, and he said "No " I told him I thought the man picked up a satchel and ran down Park Street,

I did not count them and do not know how many there were, and I asked them what was the matter, and they said a robbery had been committed, and I said to them the man that had been at Mr. Ed McCue's had acted very strangely, and if they would run fast they might overtake him, and I still stayed there and talked to Ed McCue until a negro boy came up and said the nobbery was at Sam McCue's, and I waited for Ed McCue, and then he and myself went down to Sam McCue's, and I waited for Ed McCue, and then he and myself went down to Sam McCue's, and I could not exactly say the time.

Question—Tell what time that was?

Answer—I got home about 3:05; it might have been 9:30 or 10 o'clock, I could not exactly say the time.

Question—Did you see Sam McCue when you went to his house, and did you have any talk with him; if so, what was said?

McCue's Expressions. I did not count them and do not know year.

McCue's Expressions.

Answer-Yes; I jumped up the steps several at a time, ran into McCue's room, I suppose it was his room-it was on the front, and he said to me, "Tom on the front, and he said to me, "Town.

my God, somebody has killed my wife!"
I replied to him. "You must be mistaken," and he said, "No. I am not," and then two or three persons came into the room, and I left him and walked out into the hall.

Question—Who were these people?

Answer—I don't remember. Yes, one of them was Tom Williams.

Question—Did McCue say anything about having been hit himself?

Answer—Yes; he said he had a lick on his face.

Answer—res; he said he had a nek on his face.

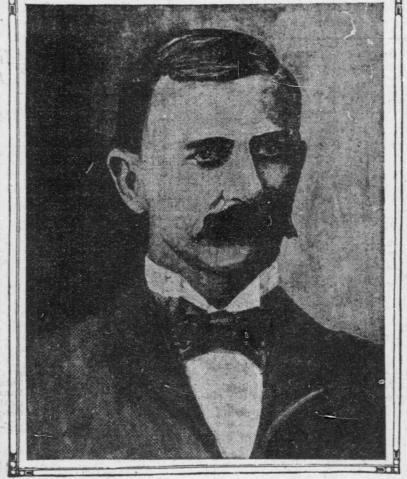

Question—Who was in the rom with him when you entered?

Answer—No one was in the room but him, and as I went in he was starting to come out.

Question—Was there a light in the room.

Answer-Yes.

I was sitting on my porch Sunday night. I saw a man cross the street toward Dr. McCue's, running, and from there he came on down Park Street. He stopped a second at Mr. Sinclair's and looked up at the window, and from there he ran up on Ed McCue's porch, and I had started to walk over there to tell him to ring the bell when he ran off the porch.

I thought he was a soldier that had probably gotten off the train and been left here, and I went out to show him how to get Mr. McCue up, and as he knocked on the door I was very near across the street and I called to him that he would have to knock louder than that, as Mr. McCue slept like a dead mar. As I stepped up on the street I thought he picked something up off the porch, and he broke and ran, and as he did so Mr. McCue raised his window and asked me what was the matter and asked me who I was.
